

ADRIANOPLE IS READY TO FALLTurks Reply Feebly to Heavy Bulgarian Artillery.

PROVISIONS RUNNING SHORT

Commanders of the Investing Army
Are Straining Every Nerve to Hasten
the Surrender of the City.
Turkish Soldiers Appear Convinced of the Inevitableness of Their Complete Defeat.

Vienna, Nov. 5.—Every nerve is being strained by the Bulgarian commanders to hasten the fall of Adrianople, according to Lieutenant Wegener, telegraphing to the Reichspost from the Bulgarian headquarters.

The desire of the Bulgarians is to release their siege guns for eventual use on the Turkish lines at Tchatalja.

The power of resistance of the Turkish works at Adrianople, Lieutenant Wegener says, diminishes visibly day by day. The Turks reply weakly and at irregular intervals to the heavy fire of the Bulgarian siege artillery.

The lack of provisions in the invested city is reported already to have become extremely serious.

The Reichspost correspondent says the brilliant co-operation of the Bulgarian commanders, combined with the heroism of their troops, is bringing to the Bulgarians fresh successes daily.

An attempt made by the Turks to take up a position again to the north of Eral and at Tchobur to cover their retreat totally failed, as also did the intervention in the fight to the east of Viza of Turkish troops who had advanced through Sultan Bagtche.

The Bulgarian army is pushing forward its pursuit of the flying Turks with the greatest energy in order to drive the greater part of the defeated army from its line of retreat on Tchatalja as the final result of the operation between Lule Burgas and Seral.

The enormous exertions and great sacrifices entailed on the Bulgarian troops by the blows struck at Kirk-Killeshah and Lule Burgas have not usually evoked a temporary need for repose, but this will not bring the operations to a standstill for any length of time. On the contrary, the Bulgarian advance on Tchatalja may be begun this week.

The Turkish soldiers already seem convinced of the inevitableness of their defeat and its results. A Turkish officer among those captured begged to be allowed to see King Ferdinand and ask him not to allow the great mosque of the Sultan Soliman to be destroyed when Adrianople is taken.

REFUSE TO CALL ARMISTICE

England and Russia Agree With France.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The French attitude in its refusal of the Turkish appeal for mediation is shared by England and Russia. Turkey's proposals were as follows:

First—That the powers offer and if need be enforce an armistice on the belligerents.

Second—That the powers profit by the armistice to invite the belligerents to make known their peace terms and, if necessary, harmonize the conflicting terms of the belligerents.

Premier Poincaré declared that France was unable to accept the suggestion about an armistice without furnishing to the Balkan allies guarantees relative to the conditions of peace.

MASSACRE IS THREATENED

Constantinople Dispatch Says Situation There Is Grave.

London, Nov. 5.—A Constantinople dispatch to the Chronicle which was received by an indirect route, declares that the situation in the Turkish capital is grave. The hostility to Europeans is increasing and displayed arrogantly.

Some of the workmen's guilds, the dispatch says, boast that they have taken a sacred vow to massacre every Christian should the Bulgarians enter the city. Fanatics have sworn a terrible vengeance on the infidel for Turkish defeat, while theological students preach incitements to the mob in secure mosques.

Turks Repulsed Again.

London, Nov. 5.—The Turkish army occupying the line from Tchobur to Istrandia was repulsed by the Bulgarians on the eastern flank, according to a news agency dispatch from Sofia.

French Proposal Rejected.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—The reply of Germany, Austria and Italy to Premier Poincaré's proposal has just been dispatched. It rejects the proposed declaration of "disinterestedness."

Policemen Make Fatal Mistake.

Hoboken, N. J., Nov. 5.—As a result of a fight before daylight between a Jersey and a Hoboken policeman, each of whom suspected that the other was a dangerous criminal, the two men are in the North Hudson hospital, one with a fractured skull and the other with four bullet wounds in his breast. Both will die.

DECISION OF THE BALLOT STANDSOne Reason Why Our Government Is So Stable.

NOT SO WITH OTHER REPUBLICS

Revolutions Follow Failure to Abide by the Election Result, and the United States Has to Take a Hand—The New Children's Bureau Is Not an Administrative Bureau.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The best thing about this country is that when the ballots are counted and the result is known all persons accept the result as the will of the people and give the best there is in them to make the new administration a success. That is why Americans are proud of their republic.

Sad to say, our sister republics fail because they will not abide by the decision of the ballot. True, a great many times the ballot has been a farce, the election a fraud, and revolution has followed in an almost just cause. It is also true that in most of those countries a fair and free ballot is impossible, hence governments by oil garchy and constant revolutions.

Americans Interested.

Americans are becoming more and more interested in these revolutions. Time was when they were subjects for jokes. The great jest of the Centennial at Philadelphia, one which was copied and laughed at all over the country, was uttered by Dom Pedro, the emperor of Brazil. He was shown the big engine whose flywheel made 400 revolutions a minute.

"That beats some of our South American republics," said Dom Pedro.

It was not so very long after that when a revolution in Brazil made that country a republic and Dom an exile.

But, while we once joked, we are now sitting up and taking notice and sending marines into these revolutionaries. Our gunboats and warships which were made for service on which perform real service—sent to these southern waters, and marines and bluejackets are landed for the purpose of bolstering up one government or supporting another.

Cuba on the List.

And there is Cuba. It is only a short time before the final intervention comes which will give us possession of that country forever. The more we see of it and the more we know of our expert in the Philippines and Porto Rico the more we wish that Cuba was not to be another burden. But it is coming.

Somebody said something about "white elephants." It looks as if Uncle Sam was securing an unusual number of "black elephants."

Bothered Bob Bailey.

What is known as "Norton's little door" in the treasury department is a constant source of annoyance to Bob Bailey, assistant secretary, and pretty near the whole thing with Secretary McVeach. When, Charles Norton, once secretary to the president, was assistant secretary of the treasury he had a little door cut through a solid wall leading from his big office to his private office. There was a door connecting the rooms before, and no one has yet been able to understand why a second door was needed. It cannot be used for dodging visitors, for it is near the regular door.

More than 500 times Bob Bailey has explained that it is "Norton's door" and not one of his many innovations in the department.

Children's Bureau.

The children's bureau, created after a very sharp contest, has issued a bulletin setting forth that it is not an administrative bureau, no doubt correcting much in the way of false impression which prevailed when the legislation was passed. The bureau can do nothing but collect and publish information. It cannot stop child labor; it cannot regulate the hours of child labor. It is expected that the reports which will be published must create a public sentiment which will force states to act.

When Senator Beveridge was in the senate he tried to pass a bill prohibiting the transportation of goods made by child labor over interstate lines. That would have been something effective.

An objection to the political campaign was made and sustained the other day. It was that so much time has been taken up with politics that people have not had time to enjoy the beautiful autumn weather. It was the autumn weather which attracted the attention of the English people when they first visited American shores.

Not Real People.

When the roads proposition was being discussed in the house Congressman Jack Beall of Texas asserted that of all the millions of people whom it was claimed supported the proposition not one appeared before the committee to urge it.

"Over a dozen members of congress," interrupted Congressman Lever of South Carolina, "came before the committee and begged for this legislation."

"Well," responded Beall, "I meant sure enough people, not members of congress."

WOMEN PUT HIM TO ROUT

English Home Secretary Compelled to Flee by a Side Door.

London, Nov. 5.—The home secretary, Reginald McKenna, was prevented from making a speech in Holborne town hall because of the uproar caused by suffragettes. The secretary escaped a mauling by fleeing with his wife through a side door.

ROOSEVELT TAKES
ISSUE WITH LAWYERSCalls Four Attorney's Counsel
Against the People.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Senator Elihu Root, John G. Milburn, William D. Guthrie and Louis Marshall, four of the best known lawyers in New York, were assailed by Colonel Roosevelt as "counsel against the people of the United States," who, he said, were "defending a perversion of the law" for which they themselves were responsible. Colonel Roosevelt's remarks were in reply to a statement made by these four men in rejoinder to his speech in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Colonel Roosevelt's speech was made in Oyster Bay at the closing rally of the campaign.

Colonel Roosevelt said he had been informed that these four men, "in their present position of counsel against the people of the United States," had attacked statements which he made regarding decisions of the New York court of appeals as being contrary to the law and the fact. He took up, one by one, the cases which he had discussed and read from a number of books extracts to prove that he had stated the facts correctly.

The colonel also said that "these four great corporation lawyers" had defended the decision of the court of appeals in the Kneisley case, involving an interpretation of the employers' liability law.

TWO MORE FAVOR HADLEY

Hillies Hears From Other National Committeemen on Vacancy.

New York, Nov. 5.—Twenty members of the Republican national committee have thus far, in an informal poll, expressed their intention to vote for the selection of Governor Hadley of Missouri to fill the vacancy on the Republican ticket caused by the death of Vice President Sherman, according to a statement made by Chairman Hillies of the Republican national committee.

Chairman Hillies said he had received messages from two more members of the committee—Messrs. Murphy of New Jersey and Hart of Idaho—both of whom said, Mr. Hillies declared, that they would vote for Governor Hadley.

CASE IN HANDS OF JURY

Remark of Governor Wilson in Closing Campaign.

Passaic, N. J., Nov. 5.—Governor Woodrow Wilson, Democratic nominee for the presidency, closed his campaign with a speech here before an immense crowd that cheered him up-roariously. He motored to Newark and took a train for his home in Princeton.

"I leave the case to the jury," were the governor's parting words.

The governor came here after a swift automobile ride from Paterson, where he spoke earlier. William Hughes, Democratic candidate for United States senator, accompanied him. The oration that greeted them was one of prolonged enthusiasm.

ZOUAVES HOLD LACT RALLY

Four Survivors of Wartime Organization Meet in Reunion.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—The last rally of the Chicago Zouaves, a wartime organization dating from 1858, which gave 100 officers to the Union armies, was held here. Four old men, not one of them less than seventy years old, and a fifth white haired veteran, a member of the Lincoln Wideawakes, another wartime organization which included many of the Zouaves, met and shook hands and talked over their battles.

FORTY-EIGHT STATES VOTING

Legislatures Being Chosen in Thirty Commonwealths Which Will Elect
Senators, Three Naming Two on Account of Vacancies—Political Complexion of the Senate Will Be Determined by Today's Election.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 5.—[Special.]—The American people today are deciding who shall be their chief magistrate for the next four years and will at the same time give into the hands of one of three political parties the control of the government. I say three political parties, although the Progressive organization is generally considered to be but a faction of the Republican party, drawing only a small per cent of its strength from the Democracy.

But under three different party names three different candidates are before the people, each believing that he will be elected and each an important factor in determining the result. And tonight we shall know all about it and on a thousand screens will be flashed the figures of the election now in progress. Upon those same screens will be a picture of the next president of the United States. Will it be Wilson, Roosevelt or Taft?

Republican Split a Factor.

The most important event in politics this year was the split in the Republican ranks, raising the hopes of Democracy and causing a corresponding depression among Republicans who really wanted to win. When the Republicans assembled in Chicago to name a candidate the intense feeling of bitterness was everywhere apparent and from the time the national committee began to decide the contests until Taft and Sherman were declared the nominees there was such a division as to darken the November outlook.

Roosevelt, who had been president, elected by the Republicans; Taft, who was president, elected by the Republicans, created a novel spectacle in contending for the Republican nomination and presented a astonishing political situation when heading rival tickets and leading rival factions in the race for the presidency. Although Roosevelt organized a new party and called it Progressive we all know that it is largely composed of Republicans dissatisfied with the old organization and its nominee at Chicago.

Democratic Storm and Harmony.

In a convention with many possibilities for disruption, where fierce denunciation and abuse of Democrats personally and New York Democracy collectively filled the air the party which so long had been divided united upon candidates and adjourned in harmony. While the bitterness of defeat rankled in the minds of those who saw victory almost in sight they congratulated the winner and promised him their support. There was no talk of bolt nor fear that factional differences would carry away any large number of Democrats.

Bull Moose to the Fore.

Arthur Brisbane, the famous New York editor, builded better than he imagined when he facetiously called Theodore Roosevelt the bull moose during the Republican convention. The name stuck. For some reason it proved attractive, wiped out the Teddy bear and was adopted by the followers of the militant colonel and became the badge of the party as well as the voting emblem.

The bull moose has taken its place with the G. O. P. elephant, the Democratic donkey and other members of the political zoo. We are yet so near the cave man and savage that we make animals our emblems and symbols. And the bull moose serves as well as another for the Progressive party. Should Roosevelt win or be second in the race after the votes are counted tonight the bull moose will be a very important factor in national politics of the future.

Wrecked Presidential Booms.

The presidential election of 1912 will be historical on account of the number of presidential hopes which have been blasted and the wrecked boom which strewed the political pathway. Taft, Roosevelt, La Follette and Cummins were contenders for the Republican nomination. Each thinks if he alone could have been nominated he would have been elected.

Champ-Clark, Harmon, Underwood, Marshall, Foss, Baldwin and others who received votes at the Baltimore convention no doubt believe that they there missed the opportunity for the grand prize. Several of them will not be considered in future conventions. This year was the last call for many men who have cherished presidential ambitions. While some of those named will be considered four years hence new men will advance and age will crowd a number off the political stage.

Forty-eight States Are Voting.

For the first time forty-eight states, embracing all the contiguous territory of the United States, are voting today for president. The people are electing 521 electors, of whom a majority is 268, and these electors will choose the president and vice president for the next four years. The electors are merely nominal go between, for the people are voting for men who will do their bidding. The people say how they would like to have the electoral votes of their state cast and the electors obey that mandate.

In thirty states legislatures will be elected which will choose senators, three of the states, Illinois, Idaho and Colorado, choosing two on account of vacancies. The political complexion of the United States senate will be determined by today's election.

A house of representatives of 435 members, the largest ever known, will be elected today, with the exception of two in Vermont and four in Maine already elected. It has been the history of elections that the house always goes with the presidency.

In twenty-five states governors are to be elected and to most of them various state officers.

Three Contending Parties.

What will make the campaign of 1912 memorable is the fact that three candidates are possibilities and all will be important factors in determining the result. We have had three parties before, some of which received electoral votes, but not in the memory of present day voters has there been a campaign where any one of three men might be chosen and where all will receive such a large vote as will be cast today. A three cornered contest, when few can tell who will run second in the race, is a novelty in national politics.

The Three Candidates.

Two of the men running for president have been in the public eye and public office nearly all their lives. Taft has been county judge, solicitor general, United States circuit judge, governor of the Philippines, secretary of war and president. Roosevelt has been a member of the legislature, civil service commissioner, assistant secretary of the navy, colonel of the rough riders, governor of New York, vice president and president.

Governor Wilson, on the contrary, flashed upon the horizon only about two years ago, when he was elected governor of New Jersey. Before that time he had been engaged in educational work, which did not bring him forward as a political possibility. The others grew up in politics. Politics grew up around Wilson.

Money and Elections.

One of the interesting features of the campaign just closed has been the discussion of money used in politics and the disclosures by the investigating committee of the senate. That big interests have taken their money into politics has been well known, but the large contributions of corporations and rich men was a surprise to the country. It has become evident that our politics are too expensive and that only rich men or the friends of rich men can run for office. Every candidate must have an "angel" who will come forward with money in hundred thousand dollar lots if he hopes to win a nomination or an election.

The investigation has had the effect of halting large contributions from corporations and causing the managers to appeal to their supporters for small sums in order to secure funds to carry on the campaign.

ALL WOMEN SOON TO VOTE

Mrs. Catt Says They Have Suffrage
Now in Burmah and China.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—Votes for women the world over, and that soon, is the prediction made by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, who arrived from the Orient after campaigning and investigating conditions among women in Europe, Africa, Asia and Polynesia.

"Women are voting today in parts of China and in Burmah, where they are led by a Buddhist woman of great ability," she said.

"In Persia the movement toward equal suffrage is strong and at the next international congress of the alliance it will be probable a Persian delegate will be present."

"Even in Africa, Java, Sumatra and the Philippines the tendency of the times can be felt, even if it is not an onrushing river as it is elsewhere."

LETTERS AT DYNAMITE TRIAL

Government Alleges They Refer to Explosions.

Indianapolis, Nov. 5.—Letters which, the government charged, showed that Frank C. Webb of New York wrote to J. J. McNamara about sending Orrie E. McManical to New York and Boston to "work up" work there, were read at the so called dynamite conspiracy trial.

A letter from Webb was quoted as showing that Michael J. Young, Boston, was anxious to have "jobs" done in Boston in the spring of 1909 and in reply McNamara wrote:

"I don't know whether my friend will be able to get down your way. Find out if the deal could be pulled off. I'll attend to the rest of it, so no one will know anything about it as to time."

BANK CASHIER IS MISSING

Peter Lutz of Zell, S. D., Disappeared
a Week Ago.

Faulkton, S. D., Nov. 5.—One week ago Peter Lutz, cashier of the Bank of Zell, drove to Redfield and has not been heard of since. His sudden and mysterious departure led to an inquiry as to the bank's financial condition and an examination was made by the state examiner.

No statements have been given out, but a rumor of a $12,000 shortage is afloat.

INSANE BANKER LEFT LITTLE

Only $852.12 Found in Vaults of Chicago Institution.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Vaults of the Kirby Savings bank, which was taken charge of by receivers on the discovery that William T. Kirby, president of the institution, had been insane, were found to contain but $852.12 when the funds were counted.

A mob of several hundred persons representing about $50,000 in deposits, it is said, was jammed outside the bank doors and shouted in rage when the information was given them. Police were summoned to disperse the crowd.

Fatal Railroad Collision.

Port Wayne, Ind., Nov. 5.—Fireman C. Merder was instantly killed and Engineer Henry Hinkle probably fatally hurt in a collision on the Detroit-Chicago division of the Wabash near Topeka, La Grange county.

Music.

"Mrs. Irons, if that infernal cat of yours keeps me awake as he did last night I'll shoot him."

"I wouldn't blame you a bit if you did, Colonel Stormley. Only it wasn't the cat; one of my boarders is learning to play the oboe."—Chicago Tribune.

Looking Backwards.

"What," she asked with a haughty sneer, "would the garden of Eden have been without Eve?"

"Well," he calmly replied, "it would probably have been quiet, for one thing."—Cause.

Murderer of Girl Electrocuted.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Andrew Komovic, sixty-two years old, was electrocuted at the state prison here for the murder of Alice Mary Halliday. The child was the daughter of Komovic's boarding house keeper at Perth Amboy. He lured her into the woods near the home and assaulted and killed her. Komovic went to his death without a murmur.

Modifies Issuance of Injunctions
in Federal Tribunals.

REQUIRES SPECIFIC FACTS

Granting of Preliminary Restraining Orders Without Notice Is Prohibited and Affidavits or Testimony Must Be Given That Damage Will Result
Before Temporary Injunctions Can Be Issued.

Washington, Nov. 5.—In promulgating the first revision of the equity rules of federal courts in the last fifty years the supreme court of the United States prohibited the granting of preliminary injunctions without notice and restricted the granting of temporary restraining orders.

The court embodied in the new rule many of the points of the Clayton anti-injunction bill, for which labor leaders have been fighting, which has passed the house and waits in the senate.

The new rule requires that it must be shown by specific facts, set forth in affidavits or otherwise, that such damages will result unless a temporary injunction is issued.

When a temporary restraining order is issued a hearing on the injunction must be given within ten days. Those restrained may come into court within two days and be heard with expedition on a motion to dissolve the restraining order.

The new rules do not require those procuring the restraining order to give a bond, or the judge to set forth in the order his reasons for granting it. These were provisions in the Clayton bill.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, had this to say about the new anti-injunction rule:

"It is a step in the right direction and one of the things labor long has been fighting for."

FATHER JOHN RUSSELL DEAD

Founder of the Prohibition Party Passes Away.

Detroit, Nov. 5.—Father John Russell, founder of the Prohibition party and the oldest Methodist preacher in the Detroit conference, is dead at the home of his daughter in this city. He was born in Livingston county, New York, in 1822.

Father Russell co-operated with most of the leading temperance organizations during his life, such as the Sons of Temperance and the Good Templars, and was twice at the head of the Order of Good Templars of the World.

He wrote the first articles and made the first public speeches in favor of the organization of an independent political party on the issue of prohibition. He wrote the call for the first national convention at which the party was organized in Chicago and was the party's first candidate for the vice presidency in 1872.

GUILTY OF SLAYING SON

Chicago Woman Given Twenty-five Years in Prison.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Louise Lindloff, spiritualist and crystal gazer, was found guilty of murder by a jury in Judge Wines' court and her punishment was fixed at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. She was charged with the poisoning of her fifteen-year-old son Arthur.

Mrs. Lindloff laughed hysterically and cast a sneering glance at the jury when the verdict was read.

Later she collapsed while standing in an anteroom surrounded by her friends. She was revived and led back to her cell in the county jail.

WILSON LEADS THE BETTING

Odds Place Roosevelt Favorite Over Taft for Second Place.

New York, Nov. 5.—Betting on the result of the presidential election was practically at a standstill. There is plenty of Wilson money at 5 to 1 against the field with no takers and Roosevelt a favorite over Taft for second place.

Sulzer is a favorite for the New York governorship, though the Progressives are confident Straus will win. The New York Herald forecasts Sulzer's election, but by a plurality smaller than it gives Wilson in this state.

Kill More Than 3,000 Whales.
Victoria, B. C., Nov. 5.—The steam whaling vessels owned by a company operating off Vancouver island and Queen Charlotte island coast killed more than 1,300 whales in the season just ended. Other companies that operated steam whalers off the Washington, British Columbia and Alaska coasts killed a total of more than 3,000 whales.

Three Perish in Flames.
Oswatimie, Kan., Nov. 5.—Mrs. G. W. Perdue, thirty-five years old, wife of a railroad conductor, and her six-month-old daughter were burned to death in a shed in the rear of the Perdue home and a five-year-old son died from his burns.

discharges, running of the nose, sore-ness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's cold compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine—be-

PROFESSOR MENA

Records of an Ancient People
Read From Carved Walls
In Mexico.

More Numerous Than Americans Today—Cities Designed by Quetzalcoatl.

THROUGH the medium of a humble flat stone, carved on one side in a mysterious, unknown tongue and equally carved on the other in partly known Nahuatl language, Professor Ramon Mena has unlocked in Mexico a volume of history which had been thought to be forever sealed when the Catholic priests of Cortes' expedition burned the 20,000
volume library of the Aztecs at Tlacotula. Back for 5,000 years Professor Mena has unrolled this tome of time, reading its secrets from the carved walls of Mitla, Palenque, Chichen-Itza, Bacalar and Xochicalco.

It has been known almost since Cortes conquered Mexico for Spain that the Aztecs were a new race; that they built none of the massive structures, even then ruins, which covered the land. Back of the Aztecs there stood in the shadow a great, peaceful, educated, moral, building race. Tradition had died out among the Aztecs. They lacked scribes to keep records of the history of their country. But in Tlacotula, forty miles from Tenochtitlan (now Mexico City), the capital of the empire of the Aztecs, was a library of 20,000 deerkins and fiber volumes, carefully guarded by a handful of priests of the old cult. This library, priceless to humanity, was given to the flames in one huge bonfire by the fanatic priests who accompanied the conquerors.

Ever since the inquisition was driven from Mexico men of science have been hunting for the key which should unlock the imperishable library of the past preserved in carvings, mural decorations, painted frescoes and flat stone plaques in the five great ruined cities which have been best preserved of all the works of the teeming population once inhabiting Mexico.

Key to the Mystery.

This key has been found in the ruin of Xochicalco, seventy-five miles south and west of Mexico City. Xochicalco —pronounced Zochekalko—was a city fifteen miles in one dimension by ten in another, a closely built town of stone and cement, its center a magnificent temple, crowning a lofty artificial mound or pyramid, whose truncated top has an area of 12,000 square yards.
In the center of this plain rises the ruined temple, seventy-five feet long from east to west and sixty-five feet wide from north to south. It stands true to the compass, and the height of the base walls alone is twelve feet. The temple topping these walls rose about thirty feet higher.

Carvings five inches deep, despite the wear and tear of fifty centuries, cover this basic wall, the tale of the race that built the ruin, preserved from the hands of vandal priests forever in imperishable stone. On one of these carved stones, twelve feet long, two feet thick and nearly four feet wide, is a double carving. On one side is the original, done by the men who built the temple; on the other, cut by some Aztec priest, is the translation of this carving done into the picture writing of the Nahuatl tongue, the name of the language spoken by the Aztecs, and their contemporary race, the Tlascalans.

This carving Professor Mena found while digging around the base of the ruined temple. Seven months of hard work were put in comparing the characters and formulating a sort of picture alphabet of the original carving on the ruin. Then the archaeologist spent five months more translating the story of the four walls, and this is what they tell:

A Race of 100,000,000.

About 5,000 years ago, as nearly as time can be reckoned by the change of the seasons and the calendar stone, there dwelt in Mexico, ranging from the head of the gulf of Lower California to Guatemala and beyond, a race, light of skin, high of forehead and prominent of nose. This race numbered close to 100,000,000 souls. It had five great cities. One was on the gulf of California, and its name has not been deciphered. One was Mitla, one was Xochicalco, one was Palenque, and the fifth was either Uxmal or Chichen-Itza, in far southern Yucatan. These names are the Aztec equivalents of the characters used to represent them in the original carvings, and no man will ever know what these names were in the language of the great race.

Xochicalco, the Aztec name for this ruin, which was a ruin when the Aztecs first came to the vale of Anahuac, means "the house of the yellow king."
The character representing this appears on one side of the stone in the picture language of the builders and on the other side in the picture language of the Aztecs. Immediately following it comes the most remarkable part of the wonder story. At the period when the stone history opens, approximately 5,000 years ago, there came to this race in Mexico or was raised up among them—the meaning is not just clear, but he appears to have come from the west—a man who had a deep knowledge of building. He traveled among this race of 100,000,000 and taught it the mason's art, how to cut and carve stone, how to make cement and how to lay the stones in the cement. He supervised the building of one temple in each of the five cities and then disappeared.

But ere he went this master architect, designer and director of all the buildings which have persisted for five centuries in Mexico left his mark on all of them. He signed his handiwork in stone, just as the artists of today sign the productions of their brushes and pencils. And that sign which he left was a feathered serpent.
Translated into the Nahuatl of the more modern Aztecs it is Quetzalcoatl
—quetzal, a bird, and coatl, a serpent.

Master Mind of a Nation.

This signature, which appears on every block of stone in Xochicalco and on every ruin in Mexico, is the link in the chain which binds all of them together, the slender thread which so strongly shows that all were built by the same tribe, all designed by the same master mind. Quetzalcoatl's work was more extensive and more voluminous in all probability than that of any other architect who has ever lived, either in ancient or in modern times. He alone carved the stone serpents, each with a feather covered head, on the temples, and in Xochicalco alone there are more than 500 feet of serpent, each wall containing a snake, its head at one end and its tail at the other, running in sinuous convolutions along the entire length.

The same serpent, identically feathered, in the same shape and with the same number of teeth, appears on the temples of each and every one of the ruined cities.

"There is not a doubt in my mind," said Professor Mena, in his work on Xochicalco, "that one great race is responsible for all the magnificent ruins of Mexico, and not several, as has been believed. But the most remarkable part of it all is that this race has disappeared completely. Not even a trace of its spoken language, its legends, or its characteristics—physically, I mean—remains among the Indians of Mexico, all of whom show traces of the Aztecs, who were not the conquerors of the mysterious race to which Quetzalcoatl belonged.

"The Aztecs, who arrived in Mexico about the seventh century A. D., and who conquered the miserable tribes they found here, saw only ruins where these massive cities once stood, and not one of the Indian tribes then occupying these lands could tell them aught of the builders of any ruin, from Xochicalco to Palenque."

In the Nahuatl tongue the name of this mysterious dead race was Quiche, or Kiche—no one knows just which—nor does any one know what the people of Quetzalcoatl called themselves in their own language. But on the walls of Xochicalco Quetzalcoatl has left what is supposed to be a portrait of himself, seated cross legged beneath the protecting curve of a convoluted of the great feathered serpent. The face is strong and fearless, the brow high and noble, and the eyes are turned toward the west, whence he came.

What Became of Quiches?

What became of the Quiches is the question which is puzzling the wise men of the national museum of Mexico. Somewhere between 3,000 years before the time of Christ and 700 years thereafter this mighty race, which the carvings say possessed as many members as the United States has inhabitants, passed as silently and mysteriously as it came. Where it came from, where it went and what wiped it off the face of the earth are the questions to be answered, and deep study will be made of all the five cities to see if the answers can be found.

Down on the Balsas river, in the state of Guerrero, about 400 miles from the City of Mexico, the largest ruin of all Mexico has been uncovered. Investigators sent there by the National museum of Mexico report that the ruins cover an area fifty miles in length by twenty-two in width, a city which must have held three or four million souls at the height of its prosperity. The ruined buildings are close together, and there are four large pyramids and seven large temples or palaces.

It seems that Xochicalco was the center of the Quiche empire, according to Professor Mena. Here lived the architect Quetzalcoatl while he was not going from city to city instructing the people in the building of their homes, temples and palaces. His going seems to have been the signal for the beginning of the downfall of the great race of the Quiches. How they went—pestilence, famine, earthquakes or floods—no man knows or ever will know, only it is certain that they did not end their racial existence in war.

No bones of defending armies are found round these ruins, but many are uncovered in the houses which in each instance filled the valleys below the great mounds on which the ruined temples and palaces stand. This would indicate that they died from diseases.

BRIDGE PROJECT IS SUCCESSFUL

Commercial Club is Moving Factor in Getting a Bridge Across Crow Wing River

OPENS NEW TRADE TERRITORY

Directors to be Chosen in December— Election Returns at Club Rooms Tonight

- What was done at Commercial club last night:
- 1. Messrs. Linnemann, LaBar and O'Brien report success in club's project of bridge across Crow Wing river.
- 2. Report on Buffalo creek road and effort to be made to get crushed rock.
- 3. Maxfield compliments the club on booklet issued and asks for loan of cuts.
- 4. Election of directors in December.
- 5. Election returns at the club rooms tonight.

The directors of the Commercial club had a well attended meeting on Monday evening. Reports were made by various committees.

Of most importance was that made by the special committee which included Messrs. H. W. Linnemann, Con O'Brien and George D. LaBar. To these gentlemen was delegated the task of investigating the matter of building a bridge across the Crow Wing river near the Stoner dam and after overcoming all kinds of difficulties, they have been able to report that success crowned their endeavors.

This matter of getting the bridge redounds to the credit of the Commercial club. If, in the entire history of the club's activities, the matter of securing the bridge had been the sum total of its work, that accomplishment alone would have justified the existence of the Commercial club.

Securing this bridge, when Rail Prairie township had given up the fight after 17 years of effort, opens up a new trade territory tributary to Brainerd. The bridge will be of inestimable benefit to the three counties of Cass, Crow Wing and Morrison and each of these in addition to Rail Prairie township has contributed liberally towards the construction of the bridge.

The bridge of the bridge committee is given in full for it is interesting reading, recording the steps taken to insure success in a matter so important to Brainerd, the county and the Commercial club.

Brainerd, Minn., Nov. 4, 1912. To the Directors and Members, Commercial Club, Brainerd, Minnesota.

Gentlemen: Several months ago a special committee was appointed for the purpose of investigating the question of building a bridge across the Crow Wing river at the Stoner dam, and to confer with Messrs. Crosswell and Stoner regarding the project.

This special committee took up the matter with Crosswell & Stoner and found that the cost of building a bridge on their dam, of the design required by them, would be far in excess of the money that could possibly be raised. We then proceeded to investigate the old site about two miles below the dam, for which various county and township appropriations were at one time made, but as the balance required at that time could not then be raised the project was temporarily abandoned.

We succeeded in getting the various counties and townships to re-instate their former appropriations and appoint committees to represent them in a special committee. After getting this special committee together several times, bids were received and one was accepted. This, however, was later rejected by the bidder. It was then necessary to re-advertise for bids and the contract was finally let to the Great Northern Bridge company for the sum of $3,890.

FIRST TOWN FAVORS TAFT

Special to Dispatch:—

Boston, Nov. 5.—Taft carried Acushnet, the first town in the United States heard from today. Vote for Roosevelt was 50, Taft 104, Wilson 52. In 1908 Acushnet gave Bryan 12, Taft 118.

The appropriations that were made are as follows:

Morrison county	$1,725.00
Crow Wing county	800.00
Cass county	500.00
Town of Rail Prairie	500.00
Total	$3,525.00

The contract price of the bridge above the county and town appropriations was $365, and an additional expense of about $200 was also incurred in securing an approach on the east end, advertising, surveying, etc.

Both of these two latter items have been fully raised by subscriptions from Brainerd business men which have been paid and the deficiency of $365 has been deposited with the treasurer of Crow Wing county. We are informed that the contract has been signed, the bond executed and that work has actually commenced.

It is a source of pleasure and satisfaction to your committee to make this report. It shows that this club has accomplished things.

The people in Rail Prairie town have worked for a bridge for the past 17 years without success. This particular matter has only been brought to this successful conclusion by perseverance and a lot of hard work together with some expense above the appropriations. This additional expense was promptly met by the business people of our city and we trust that they may be well satisfied with the results that we believe will be attained by the opening of this new territory which will become tributary to Brainerd.

Respectfully,
H. W. LINNEMANN,
CON O'BRIEN,
(Signed) GEO. D. LABAR

Committee. A report was made on the present shape of the Buffalo creek bridge and its approaches. Much grading has been done at this point and the approaches have been made safe. Cinders have been spread in generous layers over the road. The Commercial club will endeavor to secure from St. Cloud crushed rock to be used for surfacing.

State Immigration Commissioner Maxfield, in a letter to the club, informed them of his plan to issue a publication dealing with "Northern Minnesota" and in which generous space would be accorded Crow Wing county. He mentioned the Commercial club booklet recently issued and complimented the organization on the pictures and arrangement of the book and asked that the cuts be loaned him for use in his publication. As this means just so much more advertising for Crow Wing county the request was quickly acceded to.

On the first Tuesday in December will be held the election of eight directors. Nominations are in order now.

Election returns will be received at the Commercial club rooms tonight and the club will maintain open house all night. The returns will be received and read and bulletined.

Heligoland's Sundays. The Sabbath begins in Heligoland at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening, when the church bell is rung, and ceases on the following day at the same hour. At one time no vessel was permitted to leave the port during the Sabbath.

CITY FATHERS IN PEACEFUL SESSION

Routine Bills Allowed—Liquor License and Transfer are Granted Last Night

PLUMBERS LICENSE GRANTED

W. A. Fleming Advocates an Ordinance Against Short Weights and Measures

The city council met in peaceful session last night and the meeting lasted but a short time. Vice President W. F. Dieckhaus presided. The council men present included Aldermen Fogelstrom, Purdy, Henning, Olson and Lagerquist.

The usual number of routine bills were allowed and ordered filed. They included the payroll of the city officers $374.33, rent of Park Opera house $50, payroll of police department $410, special police, five on Halloween night, $10.50, fire department $155, volunteer fire department $42.25, George West meals for prisoners $12.48, hydrant rental $175, electric light for bridges, hose houses etc $166.60, arc lights $162.26, several bills of Everett & Hitch and others. The bill of the Minneapolis Steel & Machinery Co. for four ornamental lamp posts was brought up, but no action taken.

A sewer trap was ordered installed in the jail under the supervision of the sewer committee. The city engineer was instructed to buy 10 inch corrugated pipe and put the same in place needed in Norwood street. Fifteenth street was ordered graded up by Street Commissioner Barron at certain places.

Alderman Henning brought up the matter of a lateral sewer between Second and Third avenues and such extension and its advisability was left in the hands of the sewer committee, to report at the next meeting.

A liquor license was granted Iver Holden. A transfer of liquor license was granted J. F. Saumier from the Hayes building to the Kaupp building. Louis Sherlund was granted a plumber's license.

W. A. Fleming submitted the following communication: "It seems to me that there ought to be an ordinance against short weights and measures. Something like this: Any person, company, corporation or partnership who shall, by means of any trick, scheme or device, sell or dispose of any hay, grain, vegetables or other commodity under its true weight or measure, or who shall sell or dispose of any such property after the same has been weighed at a less weight than its true weight, shall on conviction thereof, be fined not less than ten dollars or be imprisoned in city jail not less than ten days.

"In one case a man had his hay weighed with some bags of potatoes on the load and took the 'taters' off before delivering, handing the buyer the weigh check. Another case, a man changed the weigh check. Another had a lot of old iron in the load when weighed.

"The state law does not definitely get at such cases. Besides, it seems to me that the city should take it in hand. This is merely a suggestion."

The matter was referred to the city attorney to draft an ordinance.

Fortunes in Faces

There's often much truth in the saying "her face is her fortune," but it's never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. Impure blood is back of them all, and shows the need of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They promote health and beauty. Try them. 25c at H. P. Dunn's.—Adv.

REST AND HEALTH TO MOTHER AND CHILD. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over SIXTY YEARS BY MILLIONS OF MOTHERS FOR THEIR CHILDREN WHILE SUFFERING FROM COLIC, WIND, CRICKS, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CURES WIND COLIC, and the best remedy for DIARRHOEA. It is absolutely harmless. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

"The Havoc"

In "The Havoc," a new play by H. S. Sheldon, to be seen next week at the Brainerd opera house, Mr. Paul Gilmore will have the role of a husband who, on the impulse of the moment, tosses aside a revolver and adopts the cynical philosophy of the man who wronged him.

As Richard Craig, Mr. Paul Gilmore turns topsy-turvy the usual triangle situation of the wife, the husband and the lover. Finding that his wife has an indiscreet amount of interest in a guest in their home, he enters into a pact that she shall obtain a divorce, be married to the interloper, and that he shall retain his residence with the newly wedded pair, with the difference that he is to occupy the place of lodger instead of master of the household.

FAIR WEATHER AND A BIG VOTE

Polls Crowded All Over City and County From Early Morning to Late in Evening

EVERY PARTY CLAIMS VICTORY

Present Election is One of the Quietest Ever Held in Crow Wing County

Today the pink, blue and white ballots are dropping like snowflakes into the ballot boxes and the voters of the country will decide who is to be president of this mighty republic.

For Brainerd and Crow Wing county it has been the quietest election ever held. No people are found congregating on corners. No one is discussing results or arguing what is to happen. It reminds one of the quiet period just before a storm breaks, but the doubt in everyone's mind is which candidate will be the target for the storm.

Taft men are confident the president will carry Crow Wing county. John Cochran came swinging down the street and said: "Roosevelt is going to win sure." M. T. Dunn, with that pleasant smile of his, vouchsafed the information that Wilson had the country by a landslide vote. A railroad man in the yards said: "You just watch Debs. I'll bet he pulls 1,500,000 votes today."

And there you are. Never was more confidence expressed by every candidate's followers that their standard bearer would win. And when this confidence is even expressed in substantial bets, some one is bound to be the loser.

Election returns will be received this evening at the Commercial club rooms and bulletins will be read from the stage at the Sherman Kelly Stock company show at the opera house.

Complete returns in Crow Wing county will be delayed as usual by Little Pine precinct which is 40 miles from anywhere and which is always the tail ender in bringing in reports to the county auditor. Lack of good roads and railway facilities are to blame for this condition of things.

Saved by His Wife

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F., "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds. It is the most safe and reliable medicine for any throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by H. P. Dunn.—Adv.

OPENS NEW RESTAURANT

W. T. Larrabee Serves First Dinner in His New Location 502 Front St. Sunday

W. T. Larrabee has removed from 504 to 502 Front street and on Sunday served his first dinner in his new location. The turkey dinner was fine and attracted over 120 diners who were well satisfied with the cuisine and service.

A lunch room is situated at the front of the building and this provides service to 20 at one sitting. About the center of the main floor is the large dining room, well lighted and elegantly equipped in old Mission style. Nine tables are presided over by Mrs. Larrabee and experienced waitresses. Two private dining rooms connect with the main room.

The kitchen is provided with all modern and sanitary devices and in addition a new refrigerator has been installed. W. T. Larrabee is the chef and the gentle art of cookery has no more famous expert than Will Larrabee whose dishes are known from the Twin Cities to the Twin Ports.—Adv.

Of Course it is

It is possible to purchase neckwear and purchase it of "Michael's", but it is not possible to secure better styles than we show. Let us show you the new styles. You will like them and you will be delighted with them.

"MICHAEL'S"

The same with Millinery

Every woman looks to her hat for the one distinctive feature of dress. It must be unlike any other and it must have every element of late style too.

We are receiving new shapes almost daily and will furnish any woman with the distinctiveness she desires.

RECORD VOTE BEING CAST

Special to Dispatch:

New York, Nov. 5.—Early reports from all over the country indicate a record vote being cast in the presidential election. This is especially true in New York, Massachusetts, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, where partisanship has strongly been in evidence throughout the campaign. In the Northwest states voting is brisk but there is nothing sensational in the volume of ballots cast in the morning hours. The weather is generally fair throughout the country.

"HAVOC" VERSES

Dispatch Readers Respond to Paul Gilmore's Request For Limericks and Verses

Readers of the Dispatch have been prompt in replying to Paul Gilmore's request for verses and all are anxious to win one of the five prizes offered by him for the best limericks or verses referring to his play "The Havoc" or to himself. The prizes for the best poetry are seats at the coming appearance of "The Havoc" in Brainerd, which shows at the opera house on the evening of November 15th. The first verses received are:

If by writing a verse, first prize I might earn,
To attend "The Havoc" and Paul Gilmore discern,
It would give me pleasure to know that I
A box might gain, where I could roll my eye
And gaze upon Paul, that wonderful man Who can please and attract as few men can,
And as he looks at me he may say, there is one
Who has genius sufficient in this race to come
And take the lead among the competitors all
Who have written their verses at the Dispatch's call.
And perhaps a spur it will give him to do his best
To make "The Havoc" a perfect success.
And to him and to me may fond memories cling Round the night that to us such joy did bring,
And in ending my verse I will say, sure remember,
If I win, save six seats for the fifteenth of November.

The second verses received are: Gilmore came to our city last season, though it seems but a short time ago.
His jokes and repartee linger, so now we're all anxious to go, to "The Havoc" on Friday eve, one of the eight big shows.
Another set reads: Have any of you seen Gilmore, the man with the great eight shows, He's a laugh from the start to the finish, And makes good wherever he goes. In "The Havoc" he's certainly a wonder,
Your money is taking no chance, When paid to Gilmore on Friday, Or get a seat now in advance.
A four liner has this to say: I'd love to see "The Havoc" That Paul Gilmore plays for me. To emulate my glory And now for me to see.

COUPON

17 free seats to see Mr. Paul Gilmore and his all star cast in their dramatic sensation "THE HAVOC." The attraction at the Brainerd Opera House, Friday, November 15th.

Write a little verse mentioning Mr. Paul Gilmore, or his play "THE HAVOC", one or the other or both. And win a free box of six seats. Remember there will be five prizes, 17 seats in all.

Miss Dorothy Humes Vaudeville Entertainment Drew Large Audience at the Brinkham

In commenting on the vaudeville performance which was presented at Behindji by Miss Dorothy Humes, the Behindji Pioneer says the following compliments to Miss Humes and the performance she staged:

"A second packed house greeted the Behindji home talent players at the Brinkham last night. The program pleased better than the one Monday as the songs came across the foot-lights in a better manner.

"Few people in the audience knew that the 'Cry Baby' song of Dorothy Humes last night was Miss Humes' own composition. It is called the 'New Baby' and the effectiveness of her imitation was demonstrated last night when a real baby in the audience started to cry in sympathy. Miss Humes' piano act was received as one of the best numbers of the bill."

The Pioneer then compliments Mrs. Sanborn who played Rags' "Cavatina," Hovey Lord and his chorus, "Blanket Bay" sung by a number of tots, Vera Cutter's playing, David Helmer's black face act, and other performers.

The success of Miss Humes at Behindji will be duplicated in Brainerd. Under Miss Humes' direction the Bachelor Maids are having rehearsals and the vaudeville entertainment to be given at the Grand in the near future will be one which will clearly evidence a continuation of the happy success attained by Miss Humes in producing such entertainments.

OWA MAN STUCK WITH PITCHFORK

A farmer living in the Northern part of Iowa stuck himself in the leg with a pitchfork. The wound would not heal and for two years he had a running sore. He tried all the common salves and liniments and sometimes the sore would heal, but it always broke open again. Finally he healed it up to stay healed with Allen's Ulcerine Salve.

This salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 it has been known as the only salve powerful enough to cure chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve acts by drawing out the poisons and healing the sore from the bottom up. It is so powerful that it heals new cuts and sores in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. And it heals burns and scalds without a scar.—Advt.

Masselet a Twenty-first Child.

If the seventh child of a family is credited, as it not uncommonly is, with mystical gifts, it would seem to follow that a twenty-first child should be possessed of some extraordinary talent. However that may be, Masselet, who had twenty brothers and sisters to precede him, very early developed pronounced musical tastes and at the age of nine he played a Beethoven sonata for an examination, through which he came successfully.—Westminster Gazette.

ZEMO FOR DANDRUFF

You Will be Surprised to See How Quickly it Disappears

No more dirty coats from dandruff heads. Zemo stops dandruff. Apply it any time with tips of fingers. No smell, no smear. Zemo sinks into the pores, makes the scalp healthy, makes the hair fine and glossy.

Zemo is prepared by E. W. Rose Medicine Co., St. Louis, Mo., and is regularly sold by all druggists at $1 per bottle. But to enable you to make a test and prove what it will do for you, get a 25-cent trial bottle fully guaranteed or your money back at Johnson's drug store.

Oh, How I Itched!

What long nerve-racking days of constant torture—what sleepless nights of terrible agony—itch—itch—itch, constant itch, until it seemed that I must tear off my very skin—then—Instant relief—my skin cooled, soothed and healed!

The very first drops of D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema stopped that awful itch instantly; yes, the very moment D.D.D. touched the burning skin the torture ceased.

D.D.D. has been known for years as the only absolutely reliable eczema remedy, for it washes away the disease germs and leaves the skin as clear and healthy as that of a child.

All other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute.

But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Advt.

Write Ideas for Moving Picture Plays!

YOU Can Write Photo Plays and Earn $25 or More Weekly

We will Show You How

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, IMP, SOLAX, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

You will earn $100 Monthly for spare time work

FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "Moving Picture Playwriting"

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write NOW and learn just what this new profession may mean to you and your future.
